

PATRATM

Small Account Management for Employee Benefits

The same small-accounts book that loses money inside your agency makes money inside ours.

Employee benefits work is relentlessly seasonal. Open enrollment, renewals, eligibility changes, and compliance deadlines arrive on schedule every year and the long tail of small accounts absorbs a disproportionate share of that work while returning the smallest margins. Patra manages that book for you: a dedicated, benefits-licensed account manager backed by a global delivery team, working invisibly under your brand, so your senior people stay focused on the relationships that grow revenue.

THE SMALL ACCOUNT CHALLENGE IN EMPLOYEE BENEFITS

Small benefits accounts create opportunity and are a pipeline to larger, more profitable clients. But servicing them with the same staffing model you use for large accounts creates a structural problem:

The challenge

- Low profit margins: a small account costs nearly as much to service as a large one
- Time consuming: seasonal peaks pull senior staff into processing and follow-ups
- Drain on resources: capacity is consumed by the lowest-margin work in the book
- Increased liability: high-volume, deadline-driven administration raises E&O exposure

What Patra delivers

- A guaranteed return on investment: the book becomes a margin contributor, not a drain
- Reallocation of internal staff: your team refocuses on larger, revenue-generating clients
- Behind-the-scenes integration: white-labeled service your insureds never see
- E&O coverage: carried by Patra on all assigned work

THE VALUE OF PATRA'S SERVICES

What this partnership delivers to your agency

Retain broker of record

You keep your Broker of Record; the accounts, the client relationships, and the revenue streams stay yours. Patra manages the day-to-day servicing while ownership of the book remains with your agency.

Consistent commissions

Patra manages the day-to-day servicing, so your small-accounts book keeps producing steady commission revenue without pulling your senior people into the low-margin administration that erodes it.

Staffing and overhead relief

Reallocate your team away from low-margin processing and toward growth, larger accounts, and new business. Patra absorbs the staffing and overhead load, so you add capacity without adding headcount.

Contingency bonus retainment

Keep your contingency bonuses. Patra manages the servicing on your behalf while the book stays yours so the premium volume and carrier relationships behind those bonuses remain with your agency.

Scalable growth

Absorb a growing book of small accounts without straining service quality. Patra's model flexes with your volume and protects carrier relationships, while your producers stay focused on winning and keeping larger accounts.
